HAPPINESS IS 4-H

By Frank H. Sweet

4-H Share-the-Fun programs have gotten off to a good start this week. Qualifying contests have been held each afternoon this week as acts have been selected for the county 4-H Share-the-Fun Show scheduled for Thursday, November 30, at ACHS.

Make your plans now to attend this fun evening of entertainment.

The State 4-H meats Team, on which Cheryl Walton and Mary Dyess were members, placed 6th out of 15 teams last week in Kansas City, Missouri. The trip was a good experience for the entire team.

Senior 4-H'ers should be thinking about Achievement Records as the time for completion is coming up soon. All 4-H members who will reach their 14th birthday before January 1, 1979, are eligible to submit achievement records this year. We have copies of the necessary report forms if you need one.

Appomattox 4-H'ers completed over 330 project records during the past year. This is up nearly 100 from 1977. Project records are extremely important for all 4-H'ers. 4-H'ers doing the most outstanding work in each project area will be recognized at the annual 4-H Awards Banquet in December.

Members taking the horse projects may be interested in two 4-H horse guides which are available from our office at 30 cents each. They are called "Horse Science" and "Horses and Horsemanship."

4-H'ers with an interest in livestock work should begin planning for the Southside Area Junior Livestock Show to be held in May. This show provides opportunities for showing beef steers, beef heifers, market lambs and market hogs.

Program on "Self-Defense" Presented At FBLA Meeting

The Appomattox Chapter Future Business Leaders of America held their monthly meeting on Wednesday, November 1. The program for this meeting consisted of a demonstration in the art of defense, Karate. Presenting the program were two familiar faces around Appomattox, Kent Hancock and Todd Craft. Their demonstration included kicks, blocks, and a combination of these moves used in defense. Also, a gun and knife were used to make the situation more real. Kent Hancock has a 2-degree black belt and Todd Craft, a green belt.

VIAL OF LIFE PROGRAM

them to regionalize the program to Amherst, Bedford and Appomattox counties and the cities of Bedford and Lynchburg. This regionalized program is being coordinated by BREMS through the generous donations of local industry and business.

According to Mr. Benny Rogers, chairman of the regionalized project, "The Vial of Life will provide such information as allergies to drugs, parental permission current medical problems and medications. A person wishing to participate in the Vial of Life program will receive a medical information sheet, a vial in which to place this information in, and a decal which is to be placed on the refrigerator door. The vial is then to be taped inside your refrigerator on the underneath right side of the top shelf. This is a standard location to which the responding rescue agency can go to and when seeing the Vial of Life decal, will know the home is a participant in the program."

Mrs. Barbara Evans of the Blue Ridge EMS Council states, "all too often a rescue team will arrive at the scene of a medical emergency only to find the patient unconscious with no one else home or if someone is present, too hysterical to provide the needed information. This program will provide this information as well as information needed by the Emergency Room such as insurance numbers and the family physician."

This program has been endorsed by the Lynchburg Academy of Medicine.

Presbyterian Ladies Plan Annual Bazaar

Ladies of the Appomattox Court House Presbyterian Church have been meeting every Wednesday for a year at the church to prepare for their annual bazaar to be held Friday, December 1 and Saturday, December 2.

They begin the day together with an hour of Bible study conducted by the minister, Rev. Peter Hale, and following that the work comes out and needles and scissors fly on the many projects.

Hours are spent glueing the sparkles that give the shine to the Kissing Balls. Eyes concentrate on sewing tiny sequins for Christmas tree ornaments, stocking stuffers and other decorative items. This summer bushels of vegetables were prepared for delicious Brunswick Stew, canned for the public to buy for quick and nourishing winter meals for their families. Stuffed animals, refurbished dolls and other toys to delight children have been made. Unusual items of wearing apparel have been knitted and crocheted into such things as lap robes and shawls pullovers, vests, mittens and scarves which have grown in their fingers, inch by inch. Husbands have made wooden articles at home inspired by the ladies' enthusiasm. Baked goods and home canned delicacies will be offered and a variety of white elephants whereby someone's discards become someone else's "just what I was looking for" are in process of being gathered in.

When lunch hour arrives the ladies stop to eat the covered dishes which they have brought and partake of good conversation. Following the meal the fellowship of work resumes far into the afternoon.

Leadership of the Presbyterian Women consists of: Mrs. Ethel Evans, president; Mrs. Kathleen Caldwell, vice president; Mrs. Ellen O'Brien, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Lucy Pack, chairman of Leadership and Resources; Mrs. Jane Pack, chairman, Christian Community Action; Mrs. Joel Carnefix, chairman, Personal Faith and Family Life; Mrs. Gerald B. "The Miracle Worker" To Be Performed in Appomattox

The long hours of rehearsals are paying off now as the November 17th performance arrives of "The Miracle Worker" in Appomattox.

The actors are all attentive, and nervous as the final of practice zoom by. At 8 p.m. in the Appomattox County High School auditorium, the miracle begins. On the stage you will no longer see high schools students, but well-instructed actors with a purpose. The one purpose of Anne Sullivan (Tamara Nash) will be to teach a mute, deaf, and blind child. The major one being Vinnie, a Keller maid. Pam Smith, a senior, undertakes the role of a nosey but caring servant. Also included in the cast are Mark Chevalier, Barbara Wenning, Herbert Allen, Stephanie Ferguson, Toby Brennan, Andrew Fratrick, Elizabeth Coffey, Mark Dyess, Ginny Sweet, Gina George, Willis Fleshman, Debbie Baldwin, Susan Phelps, Kim Crabtree, and Molly Handy.
